Wine Tourism in the Czech Republic

The paper concerns the inception and subsequent beginnings of winemaking on the Czech Lands. It discusses the basic wine-touristic regions of the Czech Republic and presents the rules concerning their evaluation in terms of their importance. The paper also serves as an attempt to introduce a typology of wine tourism, based on a programme carried out during an exemplary wine touristic trip and its thematic scope. Wine tourist trails are illustrated with types of wine produced in particular regions.
